Dr. Chalmers W. Sherwin

Dear Chalmers:

I can think of no clearer way to express the interest created in your talk last night than to say that your remarks were still being discussed this morning.

We sincerely appreciate the opportunity of sharing your views on various facets of research and development, * and I personally look forward to further conversations with you on this topic in the future.

Regards,

CARL E. DUCKETT
Deputy Director for
Science and Technology

* and I want to thank you again for your most stimulating and helpful visit with us.
